JOURNAL OF THE SENATE
NINETY-FIFTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE
STATE OF MISSOURI
SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIRST DAY—WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 6, 2010

The Senate was called to order at 12:00 noon by Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder.

The Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“God governs in the affairs of men. And if a sparrow cannot fall to the ground without His notice, is it probable that an empire can rise without His aid?” (Benjamin Franklin)

Almighty God, we begin in many ways anew and for that we are grateful. We face a new year that promises even more difficult decisions to be made and our decisions will have even greater impact on the people we serve. So clear our minds of what we have always done and help us to see new and better ways to approach problems so they may open up new pathways and opportunities for us. We need Your guidance so our minds and our hearts are one and our efforts follow where You would have us go. We ask that You be with Senator Shoemyer and his family during their time of grief at the death of his sister Cyola. Grant them Your comfort and grace and be an ever present help, O Lord. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

Senator Engler announced that photographers from KOMU-TV8, the Missourian, the Missouri Digital News and the Jefferson City News Tribune had been given permission to take pictures in the Senate Chamber and the Senate photographer had been given permission to take video and use flash in the Senate Chamber and the Senate Gallery today.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1324

BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate, that the Secretary of the Senate inform the House of Representatives that the Senate of the Second Regular Session of the Ninety-fifth General Assembly is duly convened and is now in session and ready for consideration of business.

President Pro Tem Shields assumed the dais and delivered the following address:

Opening Address

Senator Charlie Shields, President Pro Tem
Second Regular Session, 95th General Assembly
January 6, 2010

Lt. Governor Kinder, members of the Missouri Senate, our families, friends, and people of Missouri:

On this day just a year ago, I was honored to be elected by you as president pro tem of this great legislative body. Today, I continue to be honored and grateful for the trust you have placed in me. For me and nine others, this day represents the last opening day where we will sit as members of the Missouri Senate.

For those of us who are leaving, it would be easy to use the next four and a half months to reflect on our legislative careers and accept all the appreciation and congratulations that come when one ends a career. And while that would be the easy thing to do, it would not be the right thing to do.

Our state is facing serious challenges: the second budget year in a row where we are working with less revenue than the year before, we need to get Missourians back to work in lasting and growing industries that pay well and offer benefits, and we must restore confidence in our elected officials with ethics reforms. We need all 34 Missouri Senators working together to meet these challenges.

As we have recognized those of us who are entering our twilight, I extend a warm welcome to our newest member – the senator from the 4th.

Senator, you now join a select few in your new journey as a state senator. We support you as you work to rebuild the faith the people of the Fourth District may have lost in our democratic process and elected leaders.

The career-ending mistakes made by three elected officials last year remind us we are all human, and therefore fallible. We are a body of everyday people chosen by the public. And as humans, mistakes are unavoidable. But we must strive for higher ethics standards, because ethics violations are unacceptable. They are unacceptable legally, morally and, most of all, because they can destroy the public's trust in our democratic process. And without their trust, democracy fails. All of us who hold the public's trust must address this issue this year.

That is why I have proposed that we once and for all put an end to even the appearance of pay-to-play politics. We must find a way to ban contributions from lobbyists during session as we tried several years ago. We must finally give teeth to the state's Ethics Commission by creating the role of an independent investigator and we must hold our staff to the same levels of accountability that we hold ourselves.

These are my ideas, but there are many more that have already been introduced. I welcome your input and seek help from all of you in this effort.

Our toughest challenge this year will be the budget. To date, our state's revenue is down by 10.6 percent, while it is estimated at the end of the fiscal year we will only be down by 6.4 percent or more than $1 billion. It has also been forecast that growth will be below average in Fiscal Year 2011.

The good news is that last year we were prudent and reserved more than half – or $1 Billion - of the state's federal stabilization money to use in the upcoming budget. But those dollars will run out.

We will have to make tough decisions to fund our priorities without a tax increase. And hear me, we will not raise taxes.

We are facing an on-going budget crisis and to succeed, we must have a governor who will do his job and present a balanced budget that is not short-sighted. Last fall, I asked Governor Nixon to join us in beginning an extended budget planning cycle. While state budgeting is done yearly, it is of the utmost importance that every budget decision be made with the consideration of its impact on future years in mind. We must not be short-sighted. Cooperation is the key to providing necessary governmental services in a way taxpayers can afford.

The solution to our budget situation is to put people back to work in good-paying jobs with benefits. Our state's revenue is reliant on people working and participating in our economy.

We must focus on creating jobs to improve the economy and help Missouri families thrive. We must give the new Economic Development Director David Kerr the tools he needs to succeed in growing Missouri businesses and getting new businesses to relocate here. We must examine all ideas, including closing funds, innovative tax structures, and incentives for small businesses to keep and recruit better paying jobs with benefits.

Plus, we must recognize that the best economic development tool is an educated workforce. We must provide top-notch educational opportunities to our citizens – along the entire education spectrum.

Last year, Missouri's highest court recognized that we are giving our children, no matter where they live, an equal opportunity for a great education based on the funding formula we passed in 2005. The Supreme Court found that the formula, which is based on students' needs rather than local wealth, has a rational basis.

Since we created and passed the new formula, we have been dedicated to fully funding it. In the four years of the phase-in, we have increased K-12 funding by nearly $450 million without a tax increase. This year, we must continue that commitment and make education a top budget priority.

We must also work to make sure that more of our students have an educational experience past high school. We must build on the programs we have passed to continue to make college affordable to as many Missouri students as possible. We must support new, innovative and specialized programs that prepare our students to compete for quality jobs. And we must think outside the box for ways to help adults find their way back to the classroom for retraining.

In 1992, the voters of our state passed term limits for legislators, no more than 8 years in the House and 8 years in the Senate. Almost since the passage of that amendment, observers of state government have argued whether term limits are good or bad for our citizens and our state. Supporters argue term limits end the days of back room deals and cronyism while those against term limits say too much power and decision-making is shifted to staff and lobbyists.

I believe these are interesting arguments for political scientists, but unproductive arguments for those charged with making public policy. What I am proposing today is that we change the discussion from the merits versus frustrations of term limits to a discussion of how to make government work best for Missourians in a term-limited environment. Simply put, our terms may be limited to 8 years, but the way we think about our vision for Missouri's future should never be limited.

Last year when I spoke to you, I talked about how our state government is a $23 billion organization operating without a long-term strategic plan. I challenged us to shift our way of governing from being reactionary and year-to-year to a way with vision and purpose. You answered that challenge and we created three committees designed to craft a vision of the kind of state Missouri can be in the year 2020 and the plan to get there.

I commend the work of our first-term members who serve on these committees and their chairmen – the senator from the 15th, the junior senator from St. Charles and the senator from Johnson County. To date, these committees have reviewed our current operations in the areas of job creation, healthcare and education; invited the public and gained their input in determining what our future goals should be; and have begun the arduous task of creating a long-term strategy for how we will get there.

This legislative session, I will propose legislation to make long-term planning a permanent part of the legislative process. We must always be thinking about the future for a better Missouri and have a plan on how we get there. We need a three-year plan, a five-year plan and, more importantly, a ten-year plan that will transcend our term limits.

Ten of us leave this year. The same will be true two years from now and this revolving door will continue to spin. Some have said term limits have given us a Senate with four years of “I don’t know” followed by four years of “I don’t care.” I propose the new view is eight years of long-term solutions for our future, so that we may all work to create a better Missouri for generations to come.

As I end today’s remarks, a quote from Woodrow Wilson comes to mind...

“You are not here merely to make a living. You are here in order to enable the world to live more amply, with greater vision, with a finer spirit of hope and achievement. You are here to enrich the world, and you impoverish yourself if you forget the errand.”

As Wilson said, let’s get to work.

Thank you.

President Kinder assumed the Chair.

In accordance with Section 9.141, RSMo, the Bill of Rights was read.

Senator Bartle assumed the Chair.

RESOLUTIONS

Senator Dempsey, joined by the entire membership, offered the following resolution, which was adopted:

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 1325

Whereas, the members of the Missouri Senate feel it is altogether right and proper to pause from time to time to observe milestone events in the lives of outstanding Missouri citizens, particularly momentous occasions in the lives of those individuals who have devoted their professional lives to public service; and

Whereas, the members now pause to recognize Patricia L. Buxton of Jefferson City, Missouri, who retired from her position as the Revisor of Statutes for the Missouri General Assembly on December 31, 2009, after an illustrious thirty-two-year career; and

Whereas, respected and admired by her peers and colleagues, Patricia Buxton has an abiding love for the law and believes that the law should be in the hands of the people, a commitment she has proven time and again during her distinguished legal career with her attention to detail and willingness to share her legal knowledge and expertise with all who requested her opinion; and

Whereas, a native of Springfield, Missouri, Patricia Buxton was admitted as an undergraduate to Northwestern University at the delicate age of sixteen years; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton graduated from the University of Missouri School of Law in 1959, along with Missouri Governor Mel Carnahan, Lieutenant Governor William C. Phelps, and Bob Griffin, the longest-serving Speaker of the Missouri House of Representatives; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton and her husband, the late Jerry Buxton, were the first married couple to graduate together from the University of Missouri School of Law; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton began working for the State of Missouri in 1977 as the Assistant Revisor of Statutes after years of private practice; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton was named the Revisor of Statutes in September 2002, and she is the first and only woman to hold that position; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton served as the Missouri Legislative Staff Representative for the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform State Laws; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton was sworn before the bar of the United States Supreme Court, qualifying her to argue before the highest court in the land; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton is an avid fan of her beloved football and basketball Missouri Tigers, a devotion made apparent by the MU memorabilia that lined the walls and shelves of her Capitol office and by the players' names she chose to give to her pet cats; and

Whereas, Patricia Buxton is the devoted mother of Malcolm Buxton and Mark and Kimberly Buxton and the doting grandmother of Lily Buxton; and

Whereas, it is an honor and a pleasure for the members of the Missouri Senate to recognize exemplary Missouri citizens like Patricia Buxton:

Now, Therefore, Be It Resolved that we, the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, extend our most sincere gratitude to Patricia Buxton on this illustrious occasion, with our very best wishes for continued success and happiness; and

Be It Further Resolved that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation to Patricia Buxton as a measure of our affection and of our esteem.

Senator Engler offered Senate Resolution No. 1326, regarding Richard Middleton, Leadwood, which was adopted.

Senator Mayer offered Senate Resolution No. 1327, regarding Betty Lemons, which was adopted.

On motion of Senator Engler, the Senate recessed until 1:30 p.m.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Nodler offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 33

WHEREAS, a strong national economy and the financial well-being of millions of citizens in Missouri and across America are dependent upon the continued financial vitality of our small businesses and family farms; and

WHEREAS, the economic viability of our small businesses and family farms is directly tied to the ability of our state and the nation's community depository financial institutions to provide needed credit and to permit their borrowers to restructure existing debt in a responsible and reasonable manner; and

WHEREAS, problems which now pervade our economy but are expected to be transitory in nature have placed severe financial pressure on a number of small businesses and family farms and have, in turn, resulted in escalating levels of loan defaults and depressed property values; and

WHEREAS, these economic difficulties combined with a harsher examination environment and increases in required capitalization levels by regulators have made it extremely difficult, and often impossible, for community depository institutions to maintain their capital at levels currently mandated by their regulators without severely limiting the ability of many of these community depository institutions to continue to make the same levels of credit available as prior to this period of economic distress; and

WHEREAS, the foregoing have had and are continuing to have spiraling downward effects on the ability of many small businesses and family farms to remain viable employers and strong components of our state's and the nation's economies; and

WHEREAS, under difficult economic conditions which occurred in the late 1980's, federal and state agencies that regulate community depository institutions developed appropriate capital forbearance, trouble debt restructuring accounting practices, and other policies to assist those institutions that were well-managed; and

WHEREAS, these measures were undertaken to ensure that these community depository institutions remained viable sources of financial strength for their communities and to assist them in providing borrowers reasonable and responsible allocations of credit so as to enable deserving borrowers to weather temporary economic pressures, maintain access to reliable sources of credit, and remain as important sources of employment and economic strength, and

WHEREAS, members of Congress are increasingly recognizing the need for regulatory forbearance to support community depository institution lending throughout our country, as well as to support the small business and family farm customers of community depository institutions. To date, this recognition has been in the form of numerous Congressional hearings and meetings with community depository institutions and their federal depository institution regulators, as well as in the form of the recent House Resolution introduced by Representative Coffman (CO-R); and originally co-sponsored by Representatives Perlmutter (CO-D) and Luetkemeyer (MO-R); the letter to the federal depository institution regulators from Representatives Frank (MA-D) and Minnick (ID-D); and the letter to the federal depository institution regulators from Representative Skelton (MO-D) all calling for regulatory forbearance, temperance, and measured oversight of community depository institutions so as to not unduly restrict access to credit:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby encourage the Congress of the United States to urge the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Board, and all other agencies state and federal, that regulate the conduct and affairs of community depository institutions, to develop appropriate policies that will:

(1) Permit well-managed community depository institutions to temporarily maintain capital at levels less than that currently required, conditioned upon the submission and regulatory approval of an appropriate plan to restore capital levels by a date certain as determined by the appropriate agencies; and

(2) Permit well-managed community depository institutions to temporarily account for troubled debt restructuring in a manner which allows a loan to continue to be carried on the institution's books without loss recognition if the loan is formally restructured in a manner so that it is probable that the borrower can repay the loan under the new terms and that the total future cash payments at least equal the loan amount on the institution's books; and

(3) Ensure that field examiners are not inappropriately classifying loans based on judgments about, or relationship of, various types of loans, to currently stressed sectors of the economy apart from the ability of the loans to show likelihood of repayment based on positive cash flows, ample amounts of collateral, and other mitigating factors; and

(4) Include such additional temporary accommodations for well-managed community depository institutions as the agencies determine are appropriate, including regulatory forbearance similar to that provided in the 1980's, to assist those institutions in remaining vital sources of financial strength for their communities, while maintaining needed standards to assure the continued financial integrity of those institutions and communities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Federal Reserve Board, and the members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senators Lembke, Cunningham, Rupp, Purgason, Mayer, Nodler and Schmitt offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 34

WHEREAS, in the American system, sovereignty is defined as final authority, and the people, not government, are sovereign; and

WHEREAS, the people of the state of Missouri are not united with the people of the other forty-nine states that comprise the United States of America on a principle of unlimited submission to their federal government; and

WHEREAS, all power not delegated by the people to government is retained; and

WHEREAS, the people of the several states comprising the United States of America created the federal government to be their agent for certain enumerated purposes only; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States reads as follows: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, nor prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, or to the people"; and

WHEREAS, the Tenth Amendment defines the total scope of federal power as being that which has been delegated by the people to the federal government in the Constitution of the United States, and so that which is necessary and proper to advancing those enumerated powers; with the rest being left to state governments or the people themselves; and

WHEREAS, powers, too numerous to list for the purposes of this resolution, have been exercised, past and present, by federal administrations, under the leadership of both Democrats and Republicans, which infringe on the sovereignty of the people of this state, and may further violate the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, when powers are assumed by the federal government which have not been delegated to it by the people, a nullification of the act is the rightful remedy that without this remedy the people of Missouri would be under the dominion, absolute and unlimited, of whoever might exercise this right of judgment for them:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby affirm the sovereignty of the people of Missouri under the Tenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States over all powers not otherwise delegated to the federal government by the Constitution of the United States; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that this resolution shall serve as a notice and demand to the federal government to cease and desist any and all activities outside the scope of their constitutionally-delegated powers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Schmitt offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 36

WHEREAS, the federal public debt has surpassed twelve trillion dollars, which equates to tens of thousands of dollars for each person in the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Emergency Economic Stabilization Act of 2008, commonly known as the "bailout plan" authorized the United States Treasury to spend up to seven hundred billion dollars with little or no transparency or accountability regarding the use of taxpayers' money; and

WHEREAS, continued deficit spending demonstrates an unwillingness or inability of both the federal executive and legislative branches to spend no more than available revenues; and

WHEREAS, fiscal irresponsibility at the federal level is creating an extraordinary financial burden to be carried by future generations of this country; and

WHEREAS, the federal government's seemingly unlimited borrowing of money raises questions about the fundamental principles and responsibilities of government, with potentially profound consequences for this nation and its people, making it an appropriate subject for limitation by the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States vests the ultimate responsibility to approve or disapprove constitutional amendments with the people, as represented by their elected state legislatures:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge Congress to adopt a balanced budget amendment to the United States Constitution that requires a balance in the projected revenues and expenditures of the United States federal government when preparing and approving the annual federal budget; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and members of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Schmitt offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 37

WHEREAS, recently in the Senate version of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (HR 3590), a special deal was reportedly made by Nebraska Senator Ben Nelson whereby the state of Nebraska is permanently exempted from bearing the costs of newly eligible Nebraska Medicaid enrollees; and

WHEREAS, such exemption has not been afforded to Missouri or any of the other 48 states; and

WHEREAS, all other states except Nebraska will be required to allocate substantial sums to accommodate the federal health care bill's new Medicaid mandates; and

WHEREAS, it has also been reported that Senator Nelson's vote for passage of the bill was secured only after the deal was made; and

WHEREAS, this "Nebraska Compromise" strikes a blow to the nation's collective confidence in elected officials in Washington, D.C. and violates basic notions of fundamental fairness:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby call on Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster to join the 13 other state attorneys general from across the nation in challenging the special deal; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Attorney General Koster thoroughly review the constitutionality and legality of this suspect provision in HR 3590 and stand up for Missouri taxpayers; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Attorney General Koster, the Governor, and each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

Senator Rupp offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 38

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly acting with the best of intentions, applied to the Congress of the United States by resolution in accordance with Article V, Constitution of the United States, for a constitutional convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, was passed by the Eighty-second General Assembly of the State of Missouri in 1983 specifically proposing a constitutional convention for the sole purpose of adopting an amendment requiring a balanced federal budget; and

WHEREAS, over the course of time, the will of the people of the State of Missouri has changed with regards to Missouri's previous call for a constitutional convention to amend the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, certain persons or states have called for a constitutional convention on issues that may be directly in opposition to the will of the people of this state; and

WHEREAS, the people of this state do not want their previous applications for a constitutional convention to be aggregated with those calls for a convention from other states; and

WHEREAS, former Justice of the United States Supreme Court Warren E. Burger, former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Arthur J. Goldberg and many other leading constitutional scholars are in general agreement that a convention, notwithstanding whatever limitation might be placed on it by the call for a convention, may propose sweeping constitutional changes or, by virtue of the authority of a constitutional convention, redraft the Constitution of the United States creating an imminent peril to the well established rights of citizens and to the duties of various levels of government; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States has been amended many times in the history of this nation and may be amended many more times without the need to resort to a constitutional convention, and has been interpreted for more than two hundred years and found to be a sound document that protects the lives and liberties of citizens; and

WHEREAS, there is no need for, and in fact there is great danger in, a new constitution or in opening the Constitution of the United States to radical changes, the adoption of which could create legal chaos in this nation and begin the process of another two centuries of litigation over its meaning and interpretation; and

WHEREAS, changes or amendments that may be needed in the present Constitution of the United States may be proposed and enacted without resorting to a constitutional convention by using the process provided in the Constitution and previously used throughout the history of this nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-fifth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Missouri General Assembly hereby repeals, rescinds, cancels, renders null and void and supersedes any and all existing applications to the Congress of the United States for a constitutional convention under Article V of the Constitution of the United States for any purpose, whether limited or general; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly urges the legislature of each and every state that has applied to Congress for either a general or limited constitutional convention to repeal and rescind their applications; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Administrator of General Services in Washington, D.C., each member of Missouri's congressional delegation, and the Secretaries of State and presiding officers of both houses of the legislatures of each state in the Union.

Journal of the Senate

SECOND REGULAR SESSION

FIFTH DAY—THURSDAY, JANUARY 14, 2010

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore we will not fear though the earth should change.” (Psalm 46:1)

Gracious God, we do come to You in this time of grief for the nearly half a million who have died and the millions injured and homeless for the earth has changed and the rumbling continues. We pray that there will be an outpouring of response to relieve the suffering, heal the hurting and burying of the dead in Haiti. We pray You will provide hope and comfort and open our hearts to those in need. We are so mindful of the frailty of life and as we return to those we love may we be even more aware of the blessings we have been given and the gift of grace of life You continue to provide us for which we give You thanks and praise. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.
